Second Managing Director at SID – Dr. Thomas Kaulitz to Strengthen the Institute's Management

As of February 1, 2021, Dr. Thomas Kaulitz has joined the institute management at the Saxon Institute for the Printing Industry in Leipzig as Managing Director. "We are delighted that we have been able to recruit such a competent and experienced professional for this position" said acting Managing Director Dr. Jürgen Stopporka at the presentation during a (Corona-compliant) staff meeting. The two managing directors will jointly lead the research institute and also the sister company PITSID Polygraphische innovative Technik Leipzig GmbH effective immediately.

Dr. Kaulitz studied mechanical engineering and earned his doctorate in the field of print finishing. He has gained many years of experience as the managing director of a medium-sized machine manufacturing company in the printing industry. He thus possesses ideal qualifications to contribute his knowledge and experience to the further development of the institute and also of the measuring and testing equipment of PITSID GmbH. In doing so, he will be able to master the challenges of the future.
