On this occasion, the association POLYGRAPH Leipzig e. V. hosts in connection with its annual general meeting and together with the Sächsisches Institut für die Druckindustrie (SID) an Innovation Day on November 16th, 2023 in Leipzig.

The association is shareholder of the institute and at the same time shareholder of PITSID Polygraphische innovative Technik Leipzig GmbH, which offers various measuring and testing devices for the graphics industry and mechanical engineering.

On Innovation Day you have the opportunity to take part in specialist lectures on current topics of the graphics industry, where we are supported by renowned guest speakers.

In a product and performance show with practical demonstrations, research projects and devices and technologies developed in the SID will be presented to you.

In addition, there is the opportunity to get to know the services and possibilities of the institute and its laboratories during a guided tour. All interested persons are welcome.

Registration is requested.

The participation in the Innovation Day is free of charge!
