Quality and Environmental Awareness Pays Off SID has certified the printing company Sepio's PSO conformity

To be able to offer its customers their usual high quality at all times, the printing company Sepio in Leipzig continues to print in accordance with the Process Standard Offset (PSO), which SID has now been able to certify once again. In addition to quality, the environment is high on Sepio's agenda. Under the motto "SEPIO GOES GREEN," the printing company has implemented a large number of measures in recent years to make its production more environmentally friendly and sustainable. these always been simple issues, said Norbert Lotz, Technical Managing Director of Sepio GmbH. It is necessary to actively search in order to find appropriate solutions in the first place. In addition, all employees have to get on board. In any case, this commitment is well received by their customers. Overall, there is a clear increase in interest in sustainably produced products. Sepio also relies on cooperation to maintain and strengthen its market position. The prerequisite for a good collaboration is always a trusting relationship between the cooperation partners.
